ILLINOIS CENTRAL SHOPS.

President Stayman's Fish Addresses Two Letters Regarding Them, Kankakee Gazette.

On the publication last week of the Illinois Central shops from Chicago to Clinton, Mr. Harbeck wrote Superintendent Russell making a bid for the shops in behalf of the people of Kankakee. Bloomington took action in the same direction, and was politely told that a bonus was no inducement; that it was the location that was wanted. Mr. Harbeck has received, however, the following letter which virtually settles the whole thing in favor of Clinton: Chicago, July 25.

J. H. Harbeck: DEAR SIR—Your letter of the 23d to Superintendent Russell has been referred to me for reply. We are contemplating the removal of a portion of our shops now located in Chicago. We are not, however, seeking to establish a new location for shops, but have determined to place the works at some one of the points where we already have shop facilities, so that whatever is done will be in the nature of an extension of existing facilities. This, therefore, would prevent our availing ourselves of your kind offer. Your truly,
STUYVESANT FISH, President.

The following is Mr. Fish's letter to the Chicago people:

Messrs. George F. Beardsley and W. B. McKinley, Committee, Chicago, Ill.: DEAR SIR—Your letter of the 24th inst. to General Manager Deek has been referred to me for reply. It is true that we shall probably in the near future have to remove at least a portion of our shops at Weldon to some other point on our line. We are not seeking to establish new shops, but desire to select a point where we already have such facilities, and where the shops could be placed and operated most economically. We have Clinton in view at this point, being in the center of our system, where three of our roads cross. There is no intention to take away from any of the existing shops. The matter, however, is only under consideration, and we shall give you suggestion due consideration. Yours truly,
STUYVESANT FISH, President.

Austin Hampton died at his residence six miles west of Sullivan Tuesday. Elder Harrel conducted the funeral services at the Dunn church yesterday, after which the remains were interred in the Hampton cemetery. He leaves a wife and four children.

Soda Water.

How the soda water men can give as much ice cream, pure fruit juice and marble dust acid as they can with a glass of soda water, and then serve it with a solid silver cup holder, a solid silver teaspoon and a fresh damask napkin, to say nothing of the $25 a week young Apollo who mixes it, all for five cents, is one of the problems that would agitate the economists if any of them should happen to fall on such an every day matter. One soda water fountain this summer used up 270 gallons of syrup in July alone. Several barrels of sugar were used in making that. Fifty gallons of it were chocolate, alone, which is the lightened drink, and is therefore called for even by people who are not lightened, but who think they are.

A Card.

Notice is hereby given that John and Louis Black, formerly laundry drivers and collectors, are no longer in my employ.

FABO NORMAN.

A BUSINESS MAN.

The Union Bottling Works Sold to Ole Johnson. Quite an important business transfer was made yesterday morning, the Union bottling works being sold by R. F. Kinkaid to Ole Johnson. Mr. Johnson has been the proprietor of the German hotel, 417 North Maryland street. Possession was immediately given and the business is in the new proprietor's hands. The business will be conducted on the same general plan, though in the future no keg beer will be handled, only bottled beer, soda water, pop and like beverages being carried in stock and sold. It is understood that Mr. Kinkaid will go from here to some point in Arkansas to locate.

The Market.

"O, there is nothing at all this year," said a groceryman despondently yesterday when asked about produce, "everything is dried up, burnt up, eaten up by worms, or else didn't exist at all. We can't get anything. I've tried. What there is so little that we couldn't reach it with a 10-foot step ladder. Canned goods, too, are soaring skyward. I don't know what the people will do next winter if these prices prevail. Dried apples and prunes will be luxuries as rare as California plums. Even onions have gone up a notch. Potatoes will stay there, I think, and all kinds of vegetables are still scarce. The potato crop all over southern Illinois is short. At Edwardsville, the center of the potato producing region, new potatoes are bringing 30 cents and one dollar per bushel."

The articles quoted below are for sale by our dealers:

The Latest Book Craze.

"The 'Kreutzer Sonata,'" Tolstoy's latest, has had a big sale in Decatur. One dealer has already sold 75 copies. He was out of the work last Saturday and had to order a copy three different times. The first customer bought the book in the morning, read it, and traded it for something else. It was sold soon again, and the second did the same. If the third had gotten back soon enough it could have been sold again. The work has been prohibited from going through the mails. That doesn't hinder them from going by express, however, and a great many more are being ordered, as a result of the advertising the prohibition has given it.

A Depot, Anyhow.

Said a man yesterday interested in North Main street: "Why don't the people out this way give the Wabash the ground and ask them to build a depot here on Main street. It is no use waiting for the Central. It is not going to do anything, while if we make it plain to the Wabash that we want a depot, and if not at the junction, then somewhere else, that road will build one. I know one man, and he is one of the small property owners, too, who will give $500 towards that plan. The money could be easily raised. That would be a good place for a depot. It is near the business center of the town, and has many advantages over the present location."

Death of a Young Man.

Patrick Buckley, a young man of 20 years, died last night at his home, 1117 East Eldorado street, of typhoid malaria. He had been sick for two or three weeks, and until that time was working in the country. He lived with his mother, a widow who has but one other child, a married daughter.

Busband and Wife Dragged to Death.

Thursday, Jacob Hancock and wife, while returning to their home at Macksville, Douglas county, were thrown out of their buggy by a runaway team. The aged couple were dragged at a furious rate by the horses, and received such injuries that neither can recover.

A POPULAR BALLOT.

THE PEOPLE TO SELECT A NAME FOR THE NEW PARK.

Send Your Vote, Accompanied by Name and Address to The Review—A Careful Record Will be Kept and the Five Favorites Submitted to the City Council.

On account of the wonderful popular interest that has been manifested in the selection of a name for Decatur's new park, THE REVIEW has decided to undertake to get an expression of popular preference on the subject. As the simplest and most practical method of obtaining this opinion the people of Decatur and Macon county are invited to send in to THE REVIEW their vote, giving both first and second choice and accompanying the same by name and address. A careful record of these ballots will be kept and the result of the vote as far as it has progressed will be printed in THE SUNDAY REVIEW in order that the interest in the subject may be kept up and the friends of the leading names may be spurred to greater exertions, which will thus insure a larger vote and as full an expression as possible, which is just what THE REVIEW wants. For convenience THE REVIEW will print a blank ballot that can be easily filled up, and when sent in will be promptly recorded.

No one will be entitled to more than one vote. This is the only limitation. There is no restriction as to age, sex or color. This is a splendid chance for the ladies to exercise the right of suffrage. When all have had free and ample opportunity to express themselves, the totals will be figured and the five names receiving the highest number of votes will be sent to the city council with a properly attested statement, and the number of votes that each received. As the athenaeum are only representatives of the people, it will be presumed that they will be governed by an expression of this nature.

The blank ballot that will be printed in THE REVIEW each day, will be for convenience only, and any vote accompanied by name and address will be recorded in order that as big a showing as possible be made for the first week's work.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE.

For convenience in making your selections here is reprinted all the names that have been suggested though the vote is not necessarily restricted to this list.

The latter case
The Davis and Ed Potter were in Justice Curtis' court yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in answer to Miss Dora Bunchfield's charge of stealing $5 from a letter given Davis to mail. A. H. Mills conducted the prosecution, Charles C. Leferger defended Davis, and L. E. Gray conducted the defense for Potter. Davis' trial was continued till next Monday. His testimony against Potter was taken and as before he told a very straight story which cross-examination did not weaken. Mr. Leferger will assist in the prosecution of Potter in order to clear Davis. The defendant brought out very little. Potter makes a general denial of all knowledge of the letter. An effort was made to impeach Davis' testimony, but it failed, and some of the testimony for impeachment was thrown out by Justice Curtis as inadmissible. Potter was held by Justice Curtis to await the action of the grand jury, his bond being fixed at $200, the same as before, which he immediately furnished with J. H. Epler, and Ed E. Dumas as security. Davis is unable to furnish bond, and languishes in the county prison.

Widening Eldorado Street
The jury to decide on damages and compensation to property owners for opening Eldorado street to its full width between Water and Main streets went up and looked at the places Thursday evening and then made their report and verdict to Judge Nelson. They awarded $1733 33 compensation to Mrs. Henry Bishop and $1300 compensation jointly to Mrs. Ellen J. Shults and George E. Montgomery, beside $987 damages to them for moving houses, sidewalks, etc. The decree was not entered yet, as there is some probability that the property owners will appeal from the decision.

Hume vs. Rosen
The suit for damages brought by George P. Hume against R. O. Rosen was decided yesterday morning by Justice Curtis in favor of the defendant. The case depended on whether or not roof plans are included in a general contract for home designs unless specially stated in the contract, and as various architects and contractors testified that they are not, the justice gave his decision to that effect. A large crowd was attracted throughout the trial, by the fact that personal feeling over the case was very bitter and the attorneys indulged freely in personalities, at times almost coming to the point of blows. There were a number of witnesses and the costs were quite heavy.

The Weather
Yesterday was another hot day, with a night that was warm until about 12 o'clock. The thermometer as observed at Saxton & Andrews' was as follows: 7 a. m., 70; 9 a. m., 83; 11 a. m., 87½; 1 p. m., 91½; 3 p. m., 91½; 5 p. m., 90; 9 p. m., 85; 10 p. m., 82; 12 m., 77; 2 a. m., 75½.

Children's meeting at 9.30. The entertainment will be given by the Loyal Legion of Decatur. At 10.30 the question in the free parliament will be, "Prohibition a Necessity".

In the afternoon Carl Johana, candidate for state superintendent of schools, and H. R. Link, candidate for state treasurer, will speak, as will also Mrs. Baxter.

At night Prof. J. J. Hickman is expected to speak. The Jingles will sing all day.

Tomorrow Mrs. Baxter will preach and the Jingles will give a church choir service.

TENT PLAIN
Fully 500 season tickets have been sold. There are more tenters than ever before. "The best on record," is what all say of it.

Many of the tenters have gasoline stoves and do their own cooking. Watermelons and soda pop are among the intoxicants sold on the grounds.

The W. C. T. U. has a lunch stand at which everything sells for 5 cents.

THAT IS WHAT ALL SAY OF THE CAMPMEETING.

The Children's Services in the Morning—Mrs. Baxter's Address—The Popular Recreational Talks in the Afternoon and at Night—Program—Notes of the Day.

Not so big as the opening day, but the biggest second day on record, and something of a surprise on account of the good attendance is what all said about the campmeeting, yesterday. Coming after the crowd of the first day, yesterday did seem rather tame in the morning and afternoon. That changed however when the speakers warmed up, and last night there was a great big crowd, filling nearly all the seats and packing the space between the pavilion and the small tents.

THE MORNING
Service was opened by a meeting for the children, at which Mrs. Baxter made an address. The free parliament took up the question, "What Shall We Do for Nebraska?" and Rev. Job Ingraham, of Nebraska, Rev. Willard, of Blue Mound, and Rev. Rutherford, of Mattoon, took part. The Jingles sang and so did the audience.

AFTERNOON
In the afternoon Mrs. Baxter made the principal speech, which was listened to by the large audience with great interest and close attention. She said when she went to school she was taught that this was a government of the people, for the people, and by the people, but that is not the truth. "It is a government of the men, for the men, and by the men, and that is all there is to it. When I think that this government of ours has gone into partnership with the liquor business, when I take into consideration what a mean thing it is, when I look it all over, I am proud to turn to you men and say, this is your government. If there is a mistake in this government it is your mistake." She said the five questions this government had to consider were the land question, the Mormon question, the prohibition question, the trusts question, and the immigration question. God is marching with his people, and one day, when the boys and girls have grown up, He will go to the ballot box and settle these questions the only way they can be settled.

After Mrs. Baxter Rev. J. H. Hector spoke briefly, his address consisting principally of several good funny stories, not all new, but all told in a homely graphic way that amused, interested and pleased the audience. He is getting very popular, and the crowd is always pleased to see him on the platform. There is a rough force about him that must have influence.

AT NIGHT
The crowd of the day was present. Even the platform showed the increased attendance by the number of singers that were on it. The choir was twice as large as usual. After a short song service, in which the Jingles took part and received a great deal of applause, Rev. J. H. Hector made an address with "The Devil in White" as his subject.

He spoke chiefly of people who profess to be Christians, but don't do anything. His address was characteristic, and was received with outbursts of laughter. At the conclusion he said some one had asked him what he thought of the woman question. He replied with an eloquent tribute to woman, in which he told of a night on a battle field, when he lay among the dead, himself badly wounded. He would have died that night if the Christian women in the hospital service who worked so nobly to relieve suffering had not picked him up and cared for him. He thought woman had as good a right to vote as the criminals, thugs, and assassins.

A collection was taken up, only the third one in six years, and it was done only at the urgent request of the campmeeting association. Nebraska was the special object of the collection, and $31.65 were received.

PROGRAM FOR DAY
Children's meeting at 9.30. The entertainment will be given by the Loyal Legion of Decatur. At 10.30 the question in the free parliament will be, "Prohibition a Necessity".

In the afternoon Carl Johana, candidate for state superintendent of schools, and H. R. Link, candidate for state treasurer, will speak, as will also Mrs. Baxter.

At night Prof. J. J. Hickman is expected to speak. The Jingles will sing all day.

Tomorrow Mrs. Baxter will preach and the Jingles will give a church choir service.

TENT PLAIN
Fully 500 season tickets have been sold. There are more tenters than ever before. "The best on record," is what all say of it.

Many of the tenters have gasoline stoves and do their own cooking. Watermelons and soda pop are among the intoxicants sold on the grounds.

The W. C. T. U. has a lunch stand at which everything sells for 5 cents.

Among arrivals yesterday were Elder Robbins, of Benet, and Mr. Fisher, from Michigan.

All the railroads except the P., D. & E. are selling excursion tickets to Decatur for the meetings.

Five people sojourned Thursday night at the W. C. T. U. lodging tent. They had more last night.

Fifteen took breakfast with the ladies at the dining hall yesterday. Dinner was served to almost as many as on the opening day.

This is the 10th campmeeting held by the association. It is the sixth under A. F. Smith's management, and the seventh in Decatur.

Yesterday afternoon took a week-long look at Jackson Park. Mr. Walker, though on legal business, insisted that he was not going to bring habeas corpus proceedings for the body of Frank Falconer, and E. J. Martin imparted to the reporter confidentially that they were really going up to approve the plans for the new L. C. depot at Decatur. Gus Ahrens was also in the party, and the only one who seemed willing to speak freely about the object of his trip. He went to Milwaukee.

In her remarks yesterday Mrs. Baxter said that every woman should be asked at the marriage altar if she could make bread, and to answer so, should be sent away until she could. The big speech on the platform startled the audience by shouting out "amen," with an earnestness that left no doubt about his being a snifter.

Among other necessities for a campmeeting sold on the ground is a liniment made by a woman doctor with four names. It is a remarkable specific and can do almost anything. Besides curing neuralgia, heart trouble, chills, summer complaint and baldness; it will keep away mosquitoes, cure rattlesnake bites, give relief to a leaky tent, and wake the tired girl at 6 in the morning. The visitors have been slow to appreciate the virtues of this remedy and have bought it freely.

Yesterday a good looking couple drove up to the gate and the lady got out of the handsome carriage. She went in on a stage and the ticket agent who walked down the fence beside the road. The gentleman had gone in the same direction, but outside the fence. Presently he came in on a season ticket, too. A few minutes after a gentleman came up and informed the keeper that the lady had poked her ticket through the fence to her companion and he had used it.

THE REVIEW POSTOFFICE.

A Card of Thanks.
To the party or parties who cut the burdock shade trees on South Monroe street, between Macou and Decatur.

Why Is It?
Mr. Editor—Why is it with all the water this town has, all its much talked of desire to do the best it can for the people, that the water in Lincoln Square is shut off at 6 o'clock at night? Last night dozens of people were in the square wanting a drink and not one around town to be gotten. I have asked men about town, I've asked officers of this town, and all the answer I've got is that they don't know.

I am a republican, but if a democratic set of officers will have water in this square at night, then I'll vote for the democrats.

That Walk Again.
Editor Review—Two months ago and over the city fare up the sidewalk along the north side of George Meyer's furniture store and piled the bricks out in William street. They were not piled close to the walk either, but well out towards the center of the street. Those bricks are there yet. We who have business in that neighborhood have been unable to find any reason for leaving them there. We have found considerable difficulty in getting around them. May we hope that when our present official street commissioner finally gets to his larger field of usefulness, and a new brick takes his place, that something will be done about this street?

Funeral of Mrs. Marcella Young
The funeral of Mrs. Marcella Young will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of her son, Carl Young, at 41 East Wood street. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. C. Miller of the Congregational church.

Mrs. Young was a woman who had many friends, to whom she was endeared by the many gentle and kindly qualities of her character. Most of her life was passed in Germany, where she was born on April 20, 1825, in Harselt, in the Grand Duchy of Baden. She came here in 1882 after the death of her husband and to make her home with her children.

Death of an Infant
Little Adelard, now 3 months old, died about 10 last night at the home of her parents at 41 East Wood street. She had been sick only two days with a small meningitis. The funeral will be held at 4 o'clock from the residence.

A Slight Smack
The regular 1 C. freight train south yesterday carried an empty box car of the Cincinnati, Washington and Baltimore road. Just as the car was crossing the Washakie tracks at the depot it struck a truck broke down and dropped it to the ground. It was shaken up a good deal and blocked off the tracks for a time. Another pile of trucks was placed under the car and the broken cars loaded up to be taken away for repairs.
